

Have you seen the new look TORPEDO-CF website?

The new look website includes the following useful resources for patients who might be considering participating in the trial or who have an interest in CF research:

- A short video clip of the Co-Investigator Prof Alan Smyth explaining what the trial is all about
- A comprehensive list of frequently asked questions
- A selection of patient stories from trial participants and their families who have kindly agreed to share their experiences of taking part in the trial

Cystic Fibrosis and Clinical Trials Awareness Week 26th January 2015

The Cystic Fibrosis Trust and the awareness group cf/Aware are joining forces to highlight the role of clinical trials, looking at how they work and why participation by people with cystic fibrosis is vital to increase understanding and bring about better treatments, sooner.

A series of posts on the Trust's blog site accessed via <http://www.cysticfibrosis.org.uk/> and cf/Aware's Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/pages/CFAware/382570558453910> will explore the subject of clinical trials from a wide variety of perspectives, including clinicians, patients, parents and researchers. A varied social media programme throughout the week will encourage discussion and storytelling around clinical trials, with the emphasis on sharing personal experiences.

Progress so far.....

As of 22nd January 2015 we have recruited 206 patients in to the study so have achieved 74% of our recruitment target of 280!

Thank you for taking the time to read this newsletter.
